Gen This was Gazza's first "solo," brew and he was happy to have the deliciously fruity and aromatic new Australian hops "Galaxy," and "Stella," to play with! Along with Magnum for bittering he added well over a kilo per barrel of these fantastic hops to create a pale, hoppy brew which is what we're all about – hops, hops and more hops, the tastier the better!

Unfortunately we had yeast issues with the beer meaning some casks blew their keystones... what a waste of hops and beer, but hopefully lessons have been learnt from this sad episode...

We know what hops are for...

TREES COME DOWN

A golden ale with Australian Galaxy & Stella hops in copious quantities for an intensely citrusy, fruity character; for brown beer drinkers this is just "One more nightmare"...
